Sense of Humour

The most important sense of human being is the sense of humour. Without this sense the existence of our race will be a question mark. This sense is absent in all the other living beings. Sir Winston Churchill, former Prime Minister of England had this sense in a high dose and he utilized it at appropriate time. Once he was addressing a press conference. A lady journalist stood up and told him that she would have killed him if he were her husband. Churchill, with no second thought, replied that he would have committed suicide before she killed him if she were his wife. What a sense of humour! Remember he was the Prime Minister of that country and we still remembered him not only because of his Prime Ministerial skill but mostly for his sense of humour.

Dr.M.Karunanidhi, the then Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu too have this sense of humour in higher dose. Once a high level Police meeting was commissioned. A DIG of Police rose to speak. His voice was not audible and was shivering. Immediately the then Chief Minister enquired the reason for his shivering. The officer replied that his voice shivered due to A/C (Air conditioner). The Chief Minister smiled and remarked that it is not advisable for a DIG to shiver due to A.C.(Assistant Commissioner of Police). Entire room burst into laughter.

Thirumuruga Kirubananda Variyar, a noted Spiritual Speaker had more takers than the other speakers. This is because of his sense of humour. Actor Kavundamani is an extraordinary personality with a great sense of humour. Actually his name is Mani. He had that knack of counter attacking others with his witty remarks. So he is called counter mani initially and finally settled as Kavunda mani. Recently actor Arjun remarked that he frequent Mr.Mani whenever he is morally down. He said that spending an hour or two with Mr.Mani will rejuvenate him.

Every one of us is having this sense. But how we use this sense is the question. Let us use it to the benefit of the mankind.

QUALITY CIRCLE

Quality Circle is a small group of employees from the small work area or doing similar types of work who voluntarily meet regularly for about one hour per week. It is a people building philosophy and also it is a nucleus to implement Total Quality Management. The objectives of QC are

- ? Identify
- ? Analyze and
- ? Solve work related problems.

QC is not only to improve quality, production and total performance of any organization but also to enrich the quality of Work life of the employees.

Objectives:

The objectives of Quality Circle are to

- ? Involve rank and file in work and development of the organization
- ? Create conditions at the work place whereby the morale of the workforce remains consistently high.

Philosophy of Quality Circle:

The philosophy of Quality Circle is the implementation of the objectives.

- ? QC contributes to the improvement and development of Organisation.
- ? It tells us about how to respect humanity and build a happy bright workshop which is meaningful to work in.
- ? It displays human capabilities fully and eventually draw out infinite possibilities.
- ? It promotes job involvement and participation

Quality Circles are not for quality problems. Quality Circles do not replace cross functional teams or task forces. It won't change the existing organization structures. QC are not for the Management to unload their problems. Simply to say it is not a panacea but to maintain quality consciousness.
